What have I done!

The basis of this book is generated from my RootsMagic Genealogy database program. The publishing program that extracts the data facts limits the flexibility of the basic text at the heart of this report. There are display results that I would like to change but I can not program the locked coding. However, the report publisher does a reasonable job at producing a basic generic report from my database of 1069 people from 310 families (November 2008). I have manually edited the basic document many times but likely have missed some formatting issues. The remainder of this report has been manually assembled from a large collection of information and pictures.

I have organized this report to start with the family of Victor and Edna Skalk. Although duplicated within the next section this section provides a family document for their children and grandchildren to understand relationships. That section is followed by the descendants of Victor Skalk's parents, Per Persson-Skalk and Brita Hedman which adds in Victor's siblings' families. Then the Ancestors' of Victor Skalk are presented in the next section. Family charts are included within these sections and relevant photographs have been inserted from the photographs that I have been able to acquire from mom, Kjell Bergkvist, Gert Bergkvist and the few photographs that I obtained from Victor. I have also included translations of 5 letters and some interesting historical stories that I have accumulated. Finally an index is included as the last section.

In order to assemble this database so many people have forwarded information to me that this document is really the work of the people within our family. Most of the Swedish genealogical work was provided by Kjell Bergkvist, son of Ingrid Skalk (brother of Victor Skalk). Gert Bergkvist, Kjell's brother, also joined in with this work and helped in translating documents, taking pictures, providing great correspondence and even adding his own childhood memories to this work. Kjell and Gert have been very patient with my many questions and many emails. They have dedicated a lot of time to this project. Through our email correspondence I have been rewarded by re-establishing contact with two very great people and their families.

I apologize in advance for any incorrect information in this report. Kjell and I are Accountants and Gert is a Teacher so we have worked hard to ensure the information herein is factual and accurate. However, it has taken a long time to collate this data and it has come from a variety of official records, letters, documents, films, and notes. I accept full responsibility for the collation of all these bits of information so any error in this document must be considered as my error. I would appreciate notification of all corrections required. This is a work in progress project so any pictures, documents or stories that you have to lend to me would be greatly appreciated enhancements.

Finally, please respect the privacy of individuals and treat this entire document as private information, solely for use by our families. Please do not publish any of this information on Internet Genealogical sites. Contact me if you have any questions on this issue.

Enjoy reading about our family history.

Where the Skalk's lived in Sweden

On April 4, 1929, Per Viktor Skalk arrived at Pier 21 in Halifax, Nova Scotia after crossing the Atlantic Ocean on the Swedish American's ship, the Kungsholm. He was 20 years old. On his immigration record his name is recorded as Per Viktor Skalk. I do not know what name was printed on his Canadian Citizenship papers. However, throughout the rest of his life in Canada he was known as Victor Skalk. So in this document I have recorded Per Viktor Skalk as his birth name. I have however, used Victor Skalk as his name for events that occurred in his married life in Canada.

With Viktor's departure from Sweden, the Skalk family's genealogical history changed significantly. Viktor's ancestors' had generally lived within a small geographical area in Sweden, within the Ål parish or the adjacent Leksand parish, in the Leksand Kommun (municipality), within the Dalarnes Lan (County).

Viktor's father, Per Rutberg-Skalk was born in the small settlement of Berg and his mother Britta Hedman was born in the small settlement of Solberga. The distance between the two residences would have been about 7 km going around the mountain on trails or about 18 km using the roads available today.

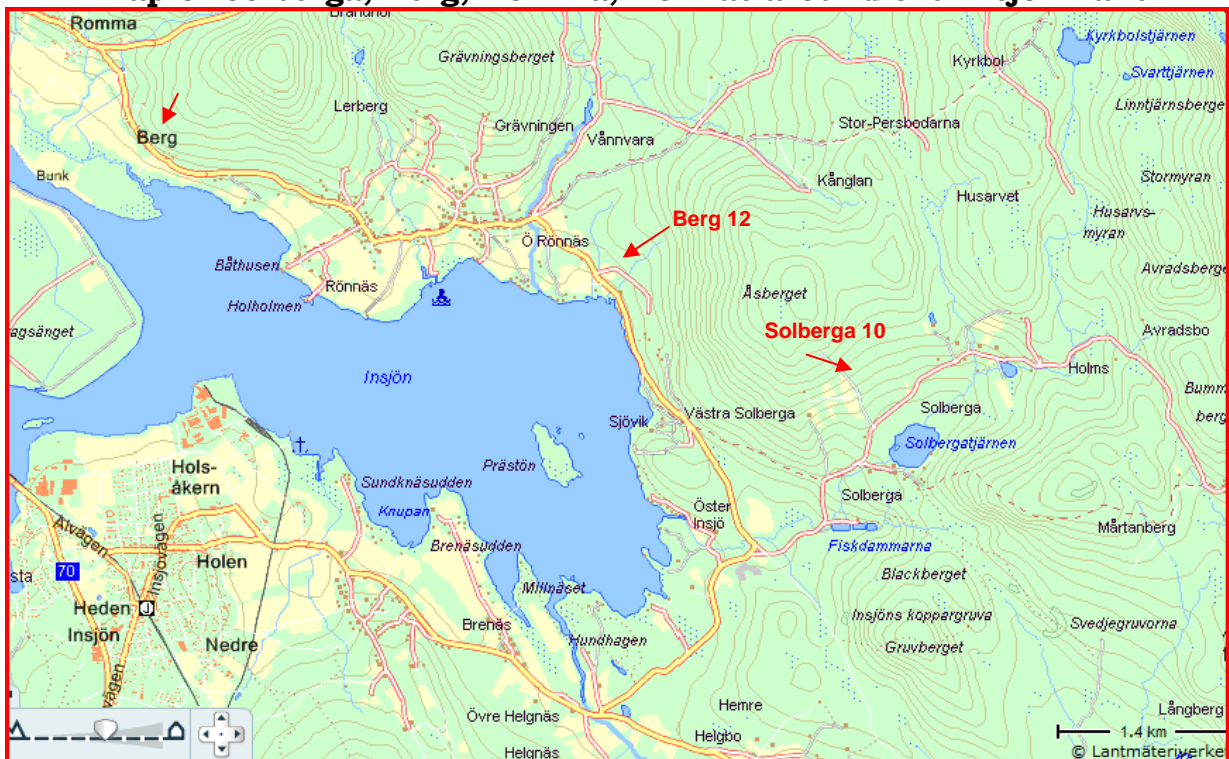

Viktor was born in Solberga 10, which was his mother's family home and farm. Solberga 10 would have been a busy house in 1908. He would have lived in the house with most of his 9 siblings, his 2 parents and for a time his grandparents. Solberga 10 is no longer standing but Kjell and Gert Bergkvist were kind enough to visit the property in 2007 and 2008 and they took a variety of pictures of the remaining elements of the old homestead. Look for those pictures in the additional information section of this document.

The following three pages of maps are provided to help localize the area of Berg, Solberga, Romma, and Rönnäs, within Leksand and within Sweden. Consider the location of these settlements as you read the genealogical facts in the remainder of this document.

Note - I had this picture but I was not sure of the identification of each person. I emailed this picture to Kjell Bergkvist. In April 2007 he cycled to visit his cousin Ingrid Skalk, the daughter of Oskar Skalk. Ingrid was 84 and lived south of Borlänge. Ingrid recognized the picture at once since she gave it to Victor when he visited her, sometime between 1965 - 1970. She was pleased that she now again had a copy of her picture.

Please note that Kjell has informed me of some uncertainty regarding this Erik Olsson (b. 20 Dec 1804) as being the correct Erik Olsson. Unfortunately research in these areas is so difficult because there are many people with the same name family and within other families in the same parish. This work represents his initial work but he wants to caution everyone that this Erik Olsson may not be correct Erik Olsson. It is very time consuming to do this research from the old handwritten ledgers. You must be a patient detective since there are many branches that you follow for a generation or two and then determine they are not the correct person. However, careful research and verification, from usually at least two sources, is normally used to support the confirmed data.

If changes are determined in the future they will be made in a future version of this document.

I was hesitant to remove this history since it has already been researched in a very time consuming exercise. Please respect that Genealogy is always a Work in Progress.

Mag Jacob Ersson and Karin Andersdotter's Family

Per Viktor Skalk's second great grandparents – 4th Generation of Ancestors

Please note that Kjell has informed me of this second uncertainty regarding this Erik Olsson (b. 24 July 1763) as being the correct one. There are two people with the same name in the same family and he is not absolutely certain which is which person. Unfortunately research in these areas is so difficult because in families the father and more than one son can have the same name as well as other families with the same name in the same parish. It takes a very thorough detective, and significant time to work through even the most basic of records, never mind the additional work required when there are these anomalies. This work represents his initial work but he wants to caution everyone that this Erik Olsson may not be correct.

If changes are determined in the future they will be made in a future version of this document.

I was hesitant to remove this history since it has already been researched in a very time consuming exercise. Please respect that Genealogy is always a Work in Progress.

Supplementary information*

My collection of photographs and documents - new ones and old ones

This is a copy of my earliest photograph.

This is a picture of Anna Andersdotter (1832-1913) and Olof Errson-Hedman (1828-1911). Anna and Olof were the parents of Britta Hedman, Victor Skalk's mother. Anna Andersdotter and Olof Errson-Hedman lived at Solberga 10 for at least the later part of their lives.

Britta Hedman and Per Persson-Skalk moved into Solberga 10 in about 1907. This date is an estimate since their daughter Elda was born in 1906 in Södertälje and their next child, Victor was born in 1908 in Solberga. Victor also said that his grandparents lived with them when he was young.

Solberga 10 was a good farm area surrounded by forests with many lakes and streams for food.

I want to tell you that we had a meeting in Solberga of all the cousins of the Lyck and Bergkvist families. It was just unbelievable. You are one of the reasons why it happened. I phoned Marianne Lyck on Monday evening. I told her that Ulf, Hans, Gert and I intended to go to Solberga on Wednesday. She became so interesting that she phoned her brothers and sisters and all came and we gathered in Solberga and had a very nice day together. The only one that was not able to attend was Jan Erik Lyck. The background on the other side of the lake is the forest around Solberga.

Gert further added:

I was able to find 5 early letters that were written to Victor from his family. I found them very interesting!

Letter from Nanny Skalk to her brother Viktor, January 6, 1938

January 6th 1938

Dear Brother and sister-in-law,

We had a nice time when we last saw each other. I read in a letter, which my mum received, that you had a safe trip back home. Time flies and Christmas is now over. Perhaps you have finished the tins of herrings by now?

You wouldn't believe how proud Stig is! He got skis for Christmas and a ski suit. He thinks of himself as a real man. He is so sweet in his outfit.

I haven't had any visitors from home for Christmas. I thought that at least Joel Lundell would turn up, but he didn't. But we have tried to make it as nice as possible anyway. There is so much snow over here in a cold winter like this. The snow came in November so it's going to be a long winter. This summer I guess that you are coming home to see us if we are still alive.

It's so beautiful in Dalarna in the summertime. Then I want to go everywhere to see people. I haven't seen my aunt since I got married. Ingrid has now left her job at the factory. I had a letter from Svea some time ago. She wrote about Selma Östlund who is going to get an heir.

There is going to be high taxes now for people without children and very low taxes for those who have a couple of them.

I'm going to give you Bertil's address in case you want to send them a postcard. They keep asking about you all the time. Bertil Johansson, at the Kommunalkaféet in Askersund. I think that they would be very happy to get a wedding picture of you.

I hope that you send us a wedding picture once you have had them developed. That will be interesting, because I don't have a big size picture of you.

Now, I'd better stop for now. I'll mail you some papers later on when I get some more. Please write back as soon as possible. Give my kindest regards to Edna. And thanks for your Christmas card!

Yours, Nanny, Gunnar and little Stig.

I can not express the gratitude I have for Kjell and all of his family and their work to help us understand these old letters. Perhaps the best example of how much work this did involve for Kjell and his group was in Kjell's own words in a note to me when this letter was translated:

Hi Doug,

Here comes a letter that you sent me earlier, translated into English. My brother Ulf wrote into a more readable way and his daughter Lena translated it. Lena sends you her best regards and says that she'll write to you later. She is a teacher in English and German... It is difficult to translate a letter like this with an old language and with an old way of building sentences. We can never translate the feeling in these letters. But we do our best. Stig, who is mentioned in the letter is the son of Nanny and Gunnar, Nanny was Victor's sister, living in Askersund. Ingrid is my mother and Svea is Svea Lyck, Insjön. She is still alive and I have visited sometimes during the past years. I think she is 93 now. I hope that you find the translation interesting. Kjell

We are fortunate to have such a kind family

Letter from Britta Hedman, Viktor's mother, to Victor, July 17, 1939

Oevre Heden July 17, 1939

I haven't heard anything lately, not since the month of March, and my thoughts often go to you. Yesterday we had a visit of a man from Furudal (a village about 70-80 km N of Insjön), a man who had worked there (in Canada?) in the mine, Valdemar Nyrén (DSM - could be the Kimberley mine name translated). He brought a small parcel from you. It contained a small album, a flag and a heart.

It was so nice to be remembered, thanks of all my heart.

John came late on Saturday evening, slept here, then he went to Ekskogs (another family?). He meant to go back next month. He was quite a nice man. Even Ingrid came yesterday in order to congratulate.

Svea gave birth to a boy (Mats) a week ago. She is on her feet again. Everything went well. He is so big and has a lot of go-ahead spirit. They have their "dreams come true children" now, if they may live. He is kind. If he gets as kind as the girl (Margareta), he will not be to any trouble at all, because she has been healthy and kind. She starts her talking now.

My brother Johan came to visit us during midsummer, even Julia from Gävle came, so we have had a lot to do. Johan is very much welcome. He remembers all of us, he is still in Järvsö in Helsingland (Järvsö is a place in a province NE of our province Dalarna). Next month maybe Nanny comes to visit us, she wrote about to come.

We are busy with the harvest now. It has been so dry earlier, but now it has been raining, even during midsummer, and sometimes the winds are very chilly.

Emil now has harvested the hay, so we are going to Solberga tomorrow. They (who? – the buyers??) are in great need of us, so greedy and stingy in every way, so we had perhaps better to stay away from them.

It's not fun getting older and fragile. It is hard for me to walk up and down the hills here so I have to spend much of the time indoors. I wonder about the war. It's so threatening, so you never know what comes in the nearest future.

We must end now with many kind regards from us all here.

Bring also our regards to Ekskogs. May you have a bright and good future wishes

Your mother
Brita Skalk

Letter from Britta Hedman, Viktor's mother, to Viktor, November 7, 1939

Oevre Heden the 7th of Nov 1939

Dear relatives!!!

Most hearty thanks for the letter we received a while back. The answer back has been delayed because of the war. You never know if it reaches the receiver. I am so anxious. I'm writing at a venture.

There are hard times now. The prices are raising, high taxes for the winter and the young men are out mobilizing now and then, even lack of work and soon even lack of water in some areas.

We haven't had rain for a long period of time. If it doesn't come soon it's hopeless to wait for it to come, because it's not long before Christmas. Otherwise we have had a good year, plenty of fruit, everything has grown very well, but the war has created anxiety and distress. I also see that Canada is going to help England. I hope you will not be amongst them who will be mobilized.

We are according to circumstances rather healthy now. My father sometimes is busy with his shoemaking, but it will be hard to get material, so we have to face a hard time.

Ingrid came to us last Sunday. Pix was out trying to fish. Emil has also been out fishing, but without luck. We went to Solberga last week to sell scrap-iron. They went there with a lorry, but they were not very well paid. Svea is alone with her children. John works in Sandviken Ironworks (about 100 km east of Insjoen). He had to take a work there because the brickyard (in Insjoen) was burnt down. We will soon see if Svea is going to move there too. Surely she will be here this winter. It also depends if he has to mobilize. So far he has been lucky. Svea is weaving as long as she is allowed. She has so nice children. The boy is growing; he is so tall for his age.

I also want to congratulate for the girl (DSM – Marilyn Skalk was born July 30, 1939). I hope you are all well. We all remember you so well. Hopefully you will answer to this letter as soon as possible before Christmas, if you get it.

If you see Gunnar nowadays, he has a sister, the youngest of them, is going to have a wedding next Sunday. He is 35, she is 19 and they are in a hurry (pregnant?). Nils has married a nurse from Mora. They have a boy, who is at home, Gunnars youngest brother.

Even Julia has moved to this village. She usually comes to visit us. (DSM-Likely Julia Augusta Hedman, born 2-Aug-1883, daughter of Olof, brother of Britta)

I end with kind regards from Solberga and all of us, and a Merry Christmas to you all three.
Britta Skalk

Letter from Ingrid Bergkvist, Viktor's sister, to Viktor, March 28, 1941

This is written in the middle of World War II

Sågmyra the 28th of March 1941

Dear Victor, Edna and Marilyn!

We are now going to try to write a letter to you. We will see if you get it. I have been thinking of you for one year now, almost every day and I wonder how you are and if Victor is at home or if you still are alive. I hope you are healthy and that everything is well. I remember little Marilyn, she will be 2 years old this summer. It would be nice to have a look at her. I can imagine her with black curly hair and sweet.

We are also very well. Pix (my father) hasn't mobilized yet, although many others are out now. I suppose you haven't heard that Oskar's wife Maria is dead. She died in childbirth before Christmas in the communal general hospital in Falun. So Oscar has a hard time and we feel sorry for the children. She was only 39 years of age.

Oskar, Ingrid and Goesta works in the factory in Sågmyra and Karin is at home. She will be 14 years old the 1st of April. It's sad how fast things can change here in life.

Our mother and father are rather alert in spite of their age. They have had the flu this winter so they haven't been quite all right of course, but they are alert anyhow.

Svea's John is mobilized a long time. He works in Sandviken otherwise, in the ironworks because the brickyard was burnt down in Helgnaes (just outside Insjoen). She has two children as you already know, Mats and Margaretha.

I wonder if you got what I sent before Christmas last year, the blanket and the other small things for Marilyn. I'm not sure if it was possible. (DSM – Because of the war and mail service impacted)

Bjoern is a big and bright boy now. He will be 3 years old this summer. He speaks very well, he is a noisy child. It's fun having a child. They are so innocent and sweet.

Aunt Lisa in Gaevle is dead. She was also very old. We subscribed Falun Kuriren (local paper) for one year, last year 1940 for you. We hope you got it. We made it because we wanted you to have news from Sweden.

Anders Oestlund is dead and all Olle Oestlund's (children?) are still not married, not even together with someone. Not many people are living in Solberga now, most of them are old.

Hilma Lundgren is married too, but not Victor.

Nanny (my mother Ingrid's sister) has also been at home this autumn. She was the same. Her boy will start his school this autumn.

I wonder how Gunnar Karlsson is, if you have heard anything from him. I hope you can come home to Sweden some time.

Victor Skalk's Family - Supplementary information

We have had a cold winter here and a lot of snow. Last winter was very cold too, so we have had an expensive heating of the house.

I suppose Edna is at home all the time looking after the girl, she is the cousin to Bjoern and all the other siblings' children in Sweden.

When you are reading this letter, put a white paper between each side, because it will be hard to read anyway.

Well, I will write no more this time, but I hope you will get it.

We are all well at home (in Sweden) and we wish you the same.

Kindest regards from all of us to all of you.

Say hello to Marilyn!

Gert also added an interesting personal comment that I thought was quite appropriate to describe the times that the families lived through at this time.

Gert's comments:

I would like to tell you a story my mother told me when I was a teenager.

Our grandmother, Britta Hedman, who lived in Solberga, had a job in Korsnaes outside Falun. She worked as a housemaid, if I remember correctly. She traveled by train from Sågmyra to Falun. Once she was given a wrong departing time for the train. So when she came to the station in Sågmyra, there was no train to Falun. It was evening. She grabbed her suitcase and started to walk to Korsnaes on the railway. She walked all night in order to be able to start her job early in the morning. After 40 km walking she was there in time to start her job. Furthermore she also must have walked from Solberga, partly through the forest over the mountain to Sågmyra, because the small road to the nearest village Baeckeberg wasn't built at that time. That adds another 6 km.

She must have had a very strong sense of duty - and very strong legs.

Letter from Nanny to her brother Viktor – January 22, 1946.

Askersund January 22, 1946

Dear brother and sister in law.

After many years, as we haven't heard from each other, I'm now going to write a few lines. I have heard that you are alive and have a good living. Yes, that pleases me, but one can wonder many times during these uncertain times we have been living through for many years. Yes, time goes and we go with it and changes are created all the time. Though, by us everything is just about the same. We have grown a little older, that's all.

We have just Stig. You should see him. He is big, almost as tall as I. He will be twelve in May.

I heard you have three children, yes that must be fun. I'm away much of the time working, and I couldn't do that if I had small children.

At home there has been a big change when mother died. I'm glad I went home Oct 7 when she had her 77th birthday. Then she lived for another twelve days, so I had to go back home to the funeral. It was a long journey. She has had many hard times all her life which none of her children would have been able to endure. So it was good for our mother to end her terrestrial life. Hopefully she got new home where she went. She was so satisfied to die.

Maybe you have heard that Uncle (DSM – Likely this was John Hedman) died quite unexpectedly in pneumonia, so they took him to Insjoen and put him in the same grave as our mother. Yes, it's strange, but everything must go on, and it's hard when it happens.

I had been thinking all the time that Uncle should have come here to visit me, but you never can tell.

I heard through Svea that you now are a farmer. There is good undertaking in America. Here in Sweden we have to do the same job all the time. I wish Gunnar could have another job, but he has been working at the brewery since he was a young boy. He hasn't done anything else.

Stig is waiting for you to write. He is curious about how the Canadian stamps look like. Here in Sweden, you see, all boys collect stamps in an album and of course stamps from abroad are the best.

Svea now has four clever children and Ingrid three lively boys. She has a very busy time just now and she is expecting the fourth (me - Gert!), may God give her a girl.

Svea first got a girl and then three boys. I enjoy my staying at Svea's best when I'm coming home. She has such a good hand with her children. Svea has a house of her own, just by the railway crossing leading to the sawmill you remember.

I have no new photographs, but I yet put some into your letter. They are new to you anyhow. You can send me a photograph of you and your children. We don't know at all how your children look like. Please write an answer to me now, although you know I live very far away.
Nanny

Extract of notes of a discussion with Victor Skalk, - April 2003.

By Doug Misutka

During the Easter weekend of 2003, I had the opportunity to sit down with my grandfather and review some of his family history. The following information is part of our conversation.

Note: Victor was born in October 18, 1908, so he was 95 years old when he recalled this information. Any inconsistencies might also be my misinterpretation of what he was saying –he could not hear by this time so I wrote each question on his white board. It was a bit hard to understand his answers too.

- Victor's Grandfather (father's father) was in the army for 7 years. He received a pension. Victor's Grandfather's father (fathers, fathers, father) was in the army for 20 years. He received a pension.
- Victor started school in 1914, just when World War 1 started. Sweden was not in the war though.
- There was a bad flu, the Spanish flu, that affected many people during the years of 1914 – 1928. Many people died from this flu.
- Victor's family adopted two orphaned boys from Germany. Their names were Eric and Carl (Krats) and they were about the same age as Victor.
- While he was growing up, Victor learned to be a good hunter and fisherman. He used to spend a lot of his time hunting birds and rabbits.
- He did a lot of fishing. Most of the fishing was for small white fish. They were very good fish to eat. He brought home this food for his family to eat.
- At the age of 7 he caught his first weasel in a snare. He sold the weasel and got 6 crowns (kronos) for it. He said he felt so rich.
- He started hunting with a slingshot. Using his slingshot he hunted squirrels too. He got paid good money when he sold the squirrels.
- When he was 12 years old he got a single shot, 16 gauge, shotgun. Now he could hunt bigger animals. He also loaded his own shells because the new ones were too strong for the animals he was hunting.
- At 14 years old he shot his first moose. His dad had a 7 mm rifle, but he would not let Victor use the rifle to hunt. So Victor cut apart one of the shells (for the 7 mm?) and made a shell for his shotgun. He went into the forest hunting and he shot a moose from 25 metres away. The shotgun shell was so powerful the shot went out of the moose's head. Victor went back home and got a wagon and dragged the moose home with the wagon. He said this was the best meat they had eaten.
- Victor said that he shot over 500 squirrels to make money. But more money could be earned in hunting the larger animals. Also at age 14 he trapped 3 Red foxes. They were very valuable furs. He was paid 200 crowns for each of the 3 Red foxes. Now he was really rich.
- Oskar, Victor's oldest brother, decided to go to work in a mine in Norway on the island of Spetsbergen. He needed money so he asked Victor to loan him some money. Victor did give him 50 Crowns. Oskar made it to the mine and worked. The mine produced gold and coal. Oskar made lots of money. When he returned to Victor's family home he gave Victor 50 Norwegian Crowns to pay him back.

Note that Kjell clarified this last item. Oskar went to work in a mine in Spetsbergen (Swedish name), also named Svalbard on the map. The island is a free trade zone, it belongs to Norway. At the time Sweden had a mine up there, it's name was Sveagruvan, the Svea mine.

Note that at this time the house was numbered Solberga 11. However, the Andersson family that lived in Solberga 10 had no living children at this time and they were 70 years old in 1881. Their only daughter left the farm on November 24, 1887. It is possible that Solberga 10 was taken over by Solberga 11 (Hedman's) upon the Andersson's death or simply the areas were renumbered at some time too. This is just speculation on my part. Regardless, the Hedmans' did live at Solberga 10 when Viktor was born.

It is very important to note that the Swedish research work performed by Kjell relied on the birth, marriage and death records from the library reference materials, which are very accurate records. These household examination records that I accessed through Genline are simply supplementary records that I pulled out to show you the difficulty and time consuming labour that was performed by Kjell in reviewing such historical documents to develop our family genealogy history.

An abridged history lesson on torps, soldiers and family names.

Torp and Torpare:

I have read a bit about the Torp process of home allocations. Until around 1880, many rural people lived in a house (Torp) that was part of a larger estate. The tenant of this Torp house was known as a torpare. The torpare would work on the larger estate as payment of rent for his Torp and the surrounding small patch of land that he worked for his own food. There was not much money available at this time, so the "days work" was the payment system in use for the Torp "rent".

Soldier Allotments:

Under the military allotment system, the Swedish Army required an allotted soldier from a jurisdictional area such as a town, estate or parish. Each of these areas had to supply a soldier. The soldier attended drills and training when not in a time of war.

In exchange for being the soldier for the area the soldier's family lived in a soldier house provided by an estate landowner. Each contract was different with the estate or area but essentially in exchange for being the soldier for the area the other people were not required to be a soldier for the area. In exchange for not being a soldier, they were required to supply food, labour and other goods for the soldier's family.

Not all soldier contracts were fair. In many cases, if the soldier was killed his family could be evicted from the home. Sometimes the wife married the new soldier for the area and stayed in the home too. Those soldiers that became too old to act as the area soldier sometimes had pensions awarded to them, again depending on their contract, the fairness of the area they represented, their length of service, etc. I do remember Victor saying that his grandfather had an army pension but unfortunately I do not know the details nor which one it was if it was Olof Errson-Hedman or Per Jacobsson-Rutberg. Skalk, Rutberg and Hedman were all military names.

Toward the later part of the 19th century land transfers started to occur so that common men could obtain their own property. In many cases the families purchased the Torp homestead. Soldiers were given or purchased the home as well, from good and fair estate holders. We do not know when the home title was acquired for either the Per Jacobsson Rutberg home (Berg 12) or the Hedman home at Solberga 10. Both families did supply soldiers for their separate parishes though.

As a final comment on this abridged discussion of the soldiers, I also read that the King liked to obtain soldiers from Dalärna because they were very good soldiers.

Family names:

- extracted from the Swedish Genealogy and History Site

Soldier names

At the end of the 17th century the Army started to give the soldiers special surnames. When a soldier was enrolled, the Captain of the Company gave him a special "soldier name". In each Company the soldiers had to have a unique last name. When an order was given to a certain soldier only one soldier was to react.

The same name could be used in different Companies. However, within the same company, each soldier's name was unique, therefore there could be a few named "Attack" within a Regiment but only one soldier with the name Attack in the same Company. This meant that many soldiers in a Regiment over a period of time could have used the same name. That doesn't mean they were related.

When a soldier retired he normally took back his patronymic name – the name he was known as before entering the army. But it also was not unusual for retired soldiers to keep their soldier's name, especially during the 19th century.

Patronymic names

From early times, Sweden has used patronymic surnames. A patronymic name used the father's name to separate two individuals to avoid confusion about who a person with a certain given name really was. A second name was added that derived from that of the person's father or paternal ancestor, usually by the addition of a suffix or prefix. Sons receive a patronymic ending of -son (e.g., Andersson) and daughters received a form ending in -dotter (e.g., Andersdotter). So the fathers' first name was used as a part of his children's surname.

For example, if a man called Anders Johansson had a son named Karl and a daughter named Karin the children's full names would be: Karl Andersson and Karin Andersdotter. Son = son and dotter = daughter. Karl was a son of Anders - Anders's son and Karin was a daughter of Anders - Anders's dotter. That's why there is a double "ss" in Swedish "-son" names, Anders's son, or in Swedish; Anders son = Andersson. To take the patronymic naming to the next generation, if Karl Andersson had a son called Peter, then his full name would be Peter Karlsson. The most important identity of a person (in a system with a patronymic naming practice) was his first name; I am Karl (son of Anders). The surname does not indicate a relationship other than among brothers or sisters.

Patronymic surnames were in constant use in rural Sweden and among day labourers in urban centers until the 1860's. From then on, it slowly became popular among these groups to adopt a family surname carried from one generation to the next. A lot of families then adopted a name connected to their home village or a name connected to nature. However, the majority just "froze" their patronymic surname as their family name. Since Anders was a popular first name there are a lot of Andersson families in Sweden.

During this time there was no law governing the taking of permanent surnames. You just went to the parish minister and told him what you wanted to call yourself. No legal or other action was needed. Children in the same family would not necessarily change at the same time. Furthermore, they did not necessarily change to the same family name.

In 1901 a law, The Names Adoption Act, was passed concerning the adoption of family names. The most important thing about the law was that the patronymic naming practice was abolished. From 1901 everyone had to have a family name, a family name that was passed down to the next generation.

Marriage and patronymic surnames

When a man and a woman got married the woman never adopted her husband's patronymic name - a name ending with "son". A woman could never be someone's son.

If they both had a family name, the woman still kept her family name. If the husband had a family name and the woman a patronymic name she might change her last name to her husband's family name. But it was not very likely to occur before the 1800's.

It did not become a custom for a woman to adopt her husband's surname until the end of the 1800's, when most families had adopted family names.
